Event Details:

Tour of Holy Trinity Church 12:00 noon - 1:00 p.m, followed by presentation on the Cincinnati Archdiocesan Archive at 1:15 in the Knights of Columbus Hall across the street.

Finding your Ancestors in Catholic Sacramental Records in the Archdiocese of Cincinnati

Presented by Sarah Patterson and Julie Ross

Catholic sacramental records are a rich source of information in family history. They confirm family movements, relationships, and activities within the life of the Church. Sacramental records are available to researchers from the Archdiocese of Cincinnati Archives and can provide information that civil records often lack. A presentation will be given on the basic topics of sacramental records, how to access them, and other resources. Q&A will follow.

· History of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati
· Information Found in Sacramental Records
· How to Read the Registers
· Local Resources to Find the Parish Your Ancestors Attended
· Developments in Access to These Records

Sarah Patterson is originally from Lebanon, Ohio, and has been the archivist for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati since January 2015. Before that she worked for the Diocese of Owensboro and the Ursuline Sisters of Mount St. Joseph. She received her Master’s in Library Science from Indiana University Bloomington.

Cincinnati native Julie M. Ross has over 45 years of experience researching her family history. As a member of the Hamilton County Genealogy Society, she has served as Editor of The Tracer and Membership Director. She is currently the Catholic Archives Liaison.
